

APE Lit. & Comp. Class Activities and Assignments Weeks 17 & 18 (December 5-16, 2016)

Monday, December 5, 2016: Students shared their study guide work with the teacher for points and then the class discussed various theme topics in A Doll House. As homework, students are to review the play and its themes in preparation for the timed essay test that will be given in class tomorrow.

Tuesday, December 6, 2016: Students completed a timed essay task over A Doll House. There is no homework in AP English this evening.

Wednesday, December 7, 2016: Students began a video study of Tess of the D'Urbervilles. Students took notes over the narrative as they viewed. There is no homework in AP English this evening.

Thursday, December 8, 2016: Students continued their video study of Tess of the D'Urbervilles. Students took notes over the narrative as they viewed. There is no homework in AP English this evening.

Friday, December 9, 2016: Students continued their video study of Tess of the D'Urbervilles. Students took notes over the narrative as they viewed. There is no homework in AP English this weekend.

Monday, December 12, 2016: Students completed their video study of Tess of the D'Urbervilles. Students finished all note-taking over the narrative. Any student who will be in class tomorrow needs to review all notes in preparation for a quiz over the video that will be given in class tomorrow. Students who will not be taking the quiz have completed the semester and have no homework over the break other than the optional winter assignment for bonus points.

Tuesday, December 13, 2016: Students who attended this day of class took the quiz over Tess of the D'Urbervilles, then reviewed the study packet for the semester exam. Students then went through their notebooks with the teacher to achieve full organization. Any student who will be taking the semester exam is to review the study packet. Other students have no homework this evening.

Wednesday, December 14, 2016: Students who attended class on this day selected a work to begin studying together and began reading. There is no homework in AP English this evening other than review of the study packet for students who will be taking the semester exam.

Thursday, December 15, 2016: Students completed the short study they began in class yesterday. Students who will be taking the semester exam for this course are to continue reviewing material in the study packet. All other students have no homework other than the optional winter assignment for bonus points.

Friday, December 16, 2016: Students in periods 3, 5, & 7 completed their semester exam for AP English. There is no homework other than the optional winter assignment for bonus points.